

Top Five Reasons Why The Sheep Could Be Angry:

5. Too much pokin', not enough strokin'.
4. He hasn't had his coffee yet.
3. Sheepdogs get him down.
2. Allergic to grass?
1. Tired of the iconic burden conferred upon him as his birthright, he wants desperately to stake his claim as an individual. Never having been a flock minded sort, he's now ready to strike out on his own four legs and shuck off the shackles of cute conformity.

Be An Angry
Sheep, Baby.

Shauna Jones
custom designs for clothing and housewares

angrypeepdesigns@yahoo.ca